Dear American Public, I can not help but share with you the most important thing for the country at the moment, or until it occurs, a co-presidency. I used to think that it was to fix Congress, but then it appeared that a dual presidency is the way. I felt very disheartened that there was not much about this online, except Quora answers with block heads saying "No, it will never happen!". This is the most important thing to do at the moment. not reforms or defundings, or parades. but to fix the machine. To make a strong dual presidency, in which we can run our problems through. Like a big magnificent machine, outputting our shared deliberations. I think then we can finally solve for our issues, and make actual progress. Not progress that undoes itself every 4-8 years.

Like i said this is the most important thing for the country. a Dual Presidency, a no veto forced deliberation, no haste leadership. Perhaps if a co-presidency had been enacted earlier, we would have not bombed Japan, and saved many innocent lives.

I hope you can agree,
